

<contact name>

You contacted me about selling your home in <contact city> a month ago, and I was not able to get in touch with you at that time. Hopefully things have worked out well for you. If you are still trying to sell the property, however, and would like to chat and explore other options, let me know.

Also - Please talk to me first, before signing or renewing a real-estate agent listing agreement on your home. I may be able to save you money and greatly expand your options for selling quickly at a good price.

Sincerely,

<agent name>
